EVENT DESCRIPTION

The Deep Valley Book Festival (DVBF) connects writers with published authors and other experts in the field to share information, techniques, skills and resources. The Deep Valley Book Festival gets its name from the setting of the beloved Betsy-Tacy children's books written by Mankato-born author Maud Hart Lovelace. The festival is free and open to the public. Participants sell books or book-related materials, and hand out marketing and promotional items that support their books. The festival offers exhibitors the opportunity to reach book lovers ready to buy their products or learn about their services. Food and beverages are available all day. The DVBF provides a listing in the event program, website, Facebook and is promoted throughout Southern Minnesota.
